BELIEVES UNION OF CHANG AND WU BEST FOR CHINA

Amalgamation of Forces Almost Sure to Come, Declares Lord Gosford

Change From Monarchical to Republican Government Cause of Chaos

"Chang, Tso Lin and Wu Pei Fu are almost certain to join forces, and I think it would be the best thing that could happen in China," declared Lord Gosford, director of the British America Tobacco Company, who passed through Victoria to-day on his way from the Orient to England.

"They are both good strategists and administrators and might be said to represent the great majority of the Chinese masses, as Chang Tso Lin is in control in Manchuria and Wu Pei Fu is in the ascendancy in the Yangtze province."

Lord Gosford attempted to show that the Chinese found it had to get away from the feudal system which had been in force in that country for centuries.

The Chinese, he said, had become used to being told to do things and up to the time of the formation of the Republic in 1912, had never questioned the ruling authority.

REASON FOR CHAOS

The Chinese, particularly in the South, he pointed out, had absorbed new ideas through education and the industries of the country had not developed sufficiently to absorb this class. Under such conditions, Lord Gosford stated, there was bound to be confusion and chaos in the country.

China was a vast country and the fighting that was going on was purely local, as a battle between two factions in one section would not be heard of outside of the particular territory in which the conflict had been waged. At the time of the abolition of the Manchu dynasty and with the formation of the Chinese Republic in 1912, Lord Gosford pointed out, the Chinese standing army was about half a million men. At the present time the floating armies of China totaled about a million and a half men. As China had a population of approximately 400,000,000 the soldiery of the country amounted to a mere handful in comparison.

Illustrating the uncertainty of government in China, he pointed out that in the last decade there had been over forty cabinets in China. But despite her internal troubles, Lord Gosford emphasized, China was carrying on as indicated by the trade through her treaty ports.

DIRECTED COUP BUT WILL NOT GOVERN; MARSHAL PILSUDSKI

PILSUDSKI REFUSES POLISH PRESIDENCY

Given 292 Assembly Votes to 193 For Bninski, But Will Not Serve in Post

Warsaw, May 31.—Marshal Joseph Pilsudski, head of the successful military coup, to-day refused the presidency of Poland, to which he was elected by the Senate and the Chamber of Deputies, sitting as a National Assembly.

Pilsudski based his refusal upon the ground of conscientious scruples against the existing constitution. He recommended the election of Professor Marjan Dmochowski of Vilna University or Dr. Ignacy Moscicki, professor of chemistry in Lemberg University.

Pilsudski contends the present constitution fails to protect the President against Parliament and deprives him of the needed executive influence. He said he would not serve in the post of President.

THE SENATE AND THE CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES convened as a National Assembly for the purpose of electing a president, chose Pilsudski on the first ballot, giving him 292 votes as against 193 for ex-count Bninski, Governor of Posen, the nominee of the right parties and the only other candidate. There were sixty-one abstentions.

Premier Bartel told Marshal Pilsudski he could not guarantee what the people would do in their disappointment, but the marshal replied: "Leave that to me. I shall manage all right."

ELECTION TO-MORROW

M. Rataj, after reading the letter of refusal to the Assembly, called a new election for to-morrow. "I thank the National Assembly. It is the second time in my life I have had the opportunity to legalize my work, which unfortunately was greeted before with opposition. I thank you that my election was not unanimous, as in February, 1919. It means, maybe, that there will be less treason and insincerity in Poland."

NEW STUDY OF ESKIMOS RACE

It is advised Mr. Baldwin to remind his notice that the proposed subsidy to the mining industry would expire May 31, and to take Mr. Hodges and other leaders who had made conciliatory proposals into consultation in an endeavor to find an acceptable basis for a settlement.

NEW EFFORT TO SETTLE COAL STRIKE IN BRITAIN URGED

London, May 31.—The London Sunday Observer, which is a supporter of the Government, made an urgent appeal to Premier Baldwin to discard the present "apathetic attitude" toward the coal dispute in Great Britain which it considers is likely to land the Government in the same difficulty which preceded the general strike.

It advised Mr. Baldwin to remind his notice that the proposed subsidy to the mining industry would expire May 31, and to take Mr. Hodges and other leaders who had made conciliatory proposals into consultation in an endeavor to find an acceptable basis for a settlement.

PATTULLO REPLIES TO AGITATION FOR PARK PRESERVATION

Not Persuaded Value of Strathcona Timber Worth Cost, Minister Says

Believes New Growth Will Overcome Loggers' Desolation on Buttes Lake

Following his announcement that the Provincial Government cannot afford to buy privately-owned timber in Strathcona Park to prevent its destruction, Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, gave out a statement to-day indicating the extent of the damage which will result from these logging operations and explaining his policy in regard to them.

The Minister says he is not persuaded that the value to be gained by the purchase of the private timber is commensurate with the cost involved and adds that the logged-off areas will reproduce timber rapidly. The timber which the owners plan to cut fringes Buttes Lake, one of the beauty spots of the park. Mr. Pattullo points out, but he declares the new growth will soon overcome the desolation left by the loggers.

MANY SCENIC WONDERS

"The question is one of correlative values," said Mr. Pattullo. "If in the early days the lines of development could have been foreseen, provision might have been made for suitable reservations for scenic purposes. I am not persuaded that the benefit to be derived from the purchase of suitable areas, would be commensurate with the cost."

COL. S. PEEL RETURNS FROM CHINA PARLEY

British Delegate to Customs Conference at Peking Here on C.P.R. Liner

Little Accomplished Owing to Lack of Stable Government in China

Lieut.-Col. The Hon. Sidney Peel, British delegate and financial expert to the China Customs conference at Peking, arrived here to-day from the Orient on board the liner Empress of Canada on his way back to England.

Owing to absence of stable government at the Chinese capital and the chaotic internal condition of China, comparatively little was accomplished by the customs delegates. It is understood, as no real government existed with whom treaties could be framed and ratified with any indication of permanence.

Col. Peel commented that his departure does not mean Great Britain intends to desert the conference, and said rather that he expected the parley to continue until something concrete has been accomplished toward granting China an increased tariff rate if not the tariff autonomy demanded.

TARIFF AUTONOMY

"Tariff autonomy probably will come eventually, too," Col. Peel said in discussing the work of the conference. "However, the problem is not so much in agreeing on what to do as in finding a sound central government with which to deal."

"As a matter of fact, the conference is virtually in favor of tariff autonomy eventually, and we are more or less pledged to it. But there are certain concessions, certain agreements and conditions rather, must be made. It is up to the Chinese to settle this. We are ready to act."

NEW SEARCH FOR ALMEE McPHERSON

Los Angeles Investigators, However, Believe Evangelist Drowned May 18

Los Angeles, Calif., May 31.—While an airplane strewed white and crimson roses over the gentle swells of Santa Monica Bay, where Almee Semple McPherson, evangelist and self-proclaimed healer, disappeared while swimming, the scene of her religious labors here, and held a memorial service yesterday for the beautiful and magnetic woman who they firmly believe is "with her God" after death in the Pacific surf.

A further touch of sadness was lent to the memorial service by the announcement that Capt. Edward Harrison, diver of Santa Catalina Island, who made the first underwater search for the body of the evangelist, had paid with his own life for his labors. Harrison caught influenza after his hours in the water searching for Mrs. McPherson's body. Then he developed appendicitis and peritonitis. Saturday he was operated upon and late Saturday night he died.

NEW SEARCH

In contrast with the attitude of mourning for the missing church leader were the preparations going forward in official circles for a thorough investigation of the unexplained mystery of Mrs. McPherson's disappearance.

Thirteen days have passed and the sea has not given up its dead. Police and investigators of the sheriff's and district attorney's offices are working to-day.

Y.M.C.A. WORK IN THE FAR EAST HAS BIG FUTURE

People of Orient Adopting Western Civilization and Methods, Says Sir A. Yapp

General Secretary of British Y.M.C.A. Completing World Tour

The people of the Orient are taking hold of western civilization and methods with a readiness that is surprising, declared Sir Arthur K. Yapp, general secretary of the British Young Men's Christian Association, who reached here to-day on the liner Empress of Canada after making a world tour which included the countries of the Far East.

"My chief object in making this tour," said Sir Arthur, was to see what the Y.M.C.A. was doing in the various countries so that we in Great Britain might be able to co-operate more effectively. "I feel strongly that a movement like ours was never more greatly needed. The greatness and future of any nation depends upon the character of its youth. There is little use in more education and civilization unless due attention is paid to character. The Y.M.C.A. movement has taken a firm hold on the Orient and is exercising a powerful influence."

PORTUGAL TO HAVE NEW GOVERNMENT

Silva Ministry Ousted; Cabecadas in Control Till New Cabinet Formed

General Gomez, Da Costa is to be Minister of War; Arrives in Lisbon

Lisbon, May 31.—Commander Cabecadas, who bore an important part in the establishment of the Portuguese Republic in 1910, to-day assumed the premiership on the invitation of President Machado as a result of the overthrow of the Da Silva Ministry Saturday.

General Gomez, Da Costa, one of the prime movers in the military revolt which overthrew the Da Silva Cabinet, was expected here to-day with his troops to take over the Ministry of War.

Lisbon, Portugal, May 31.—Commander Cabecadas, one of the most popular men in the Portuguese navy, who in 1910, headed the military revolt which overthrew the Da Silva Cabinet, has taken over the responsibilities of the government until a new ministry is formed.

President Machado requested Cabecadas to act in that capacity until the situation caused by the overthrow of the Da Silva Ministry headed by Antonio Maria da Silva should be straightened out.

The downfall of Da Silva was due to a revolutionary movement in which Commander Cabecadas was one of the leaders.

WITHOUT BLOODSHED

The coup which resulted in the ousting of Da Silva started last week and was carried out without the firing of a shot. The revolutionary committee in a communication announced the movement was purely republican and that it had been started on the basis of forming a democratic government and saving the country from the politicians who were ruining it.

Commander Cabecadas will have the post of Minister of Marine in the new government.

Representatives of all the divisions of the Portuguese army have been summoned to Lisbon to discuss the new ministry.

The coup of the revolutionists has been received by the public with enthusiasm.

DUNCAN PROPERTY OWNERS IN FAVOR OF SALE OF PLANT

Meeting Wednesday to Discuss Electric Light and Water Transfer

Special to The Times
Duncan, May 31.—The executive of the Duncan Property Owners' Protective Association met at a meeting to which they were invited by the Duncan City Council on Friday evening, to discuss the council's action in the matter of considering the granting of a franchise for sale of electric light and also of water to the International Utilities Corporation, and will recommend the same to a meeting of ratepayers, which will be called for Wednesday next at 8 p.m.

FAIR OFFER
Alderman Dickie, chairman of the water committee, reported regarding the condition of the two water systems at the present time, stating that if the city carried on, either the old or new system, it would mean an immediate and very large expenditure of money, and he considered the offer from the utilities corporation a very fair one.

Alderman Evans, chairman of the electric light committee, stated that if this franchise was not given, an additional unit must at once be added to the present plant, or the power would be totally inadequate to cope with the demands of next winter.

The International Utilities Corporation, which is the company which has recently taken over the Nanaimo Light and Power Company, approached the council about six weeks ago, and inquired whether the council or the citizens generally had any desire to have them take over the electric light plant. They were informed that the matter had not been considered, but if they cared to look into the situation and submit an offer, the council would be pleased to consider it. They were given access to the books and all information, and subsequently submitted a proposal as previously reported.

The council felt that in disposing of their control over the electric department, the troubles with the water system were likely to be considerably augmented.

OFFER ON WATER

Finally it was decided to suggest that as both the electric light and water systems were interwoven, the company make an offer to take over the water as well as the light. The company acquiesced in this decision, and after several days spent in making a thorough investigation of both the old and the new water systems, offered to take the water system over on the following terms:

(a) The company will assume responsibility for payment of the debt on the new loan, which means an annual payment of $2,500 until the year 1953.

(b) Present schedule of rates to stand.

(c) That it be left optional whether or not they put the old system into shape or abandon it entirely.

(d) That the council take care of the debt on the old loan—(this costs the taxpayers $2,100.50 annually until 1937).

K. F. Duncan, chairman of the Property Owners' Protective Association, voiced the opinion of his executive in pointing out that there were many details to be gone carefully into and embodied in the agreement, if the franchise was granted, and suggested that three of this executive should form a committee to consult with the council as to the terms of the agreement.

Mutter, on behalf of the council agreed to this, and they will be appointed at the Wednesday meeting if the ratepayers so desire.

Carne Rebekahs Held Flannel Dance

Annual Memorial Service Will Be Held Friday Evening, June 25

The final dance of the season was held in L.O.O.F. Hall, Douglas Street, on Friday evening last, at which the members and friends of Carne Rebekah Lodge were present.

The L.O.O.F. five-piece orchestra furnished the music in a satisfactory manner, responding to numerous encores.

A spotlight was used which added to the enjoyment of the dancers. Prizes for the spot dance were won by Miss Thelma Smith and Mrs. Clifford Johns.

Buffet luncheon was served by the social committee.

For the first time this lodge has decided to hold a separate Memorial Service. This will take place June 25. About fifteen members have been chosen for this work and it will require thirty minutes in which to perform the ceremony.

Garden City W.I.—The Garden City Women's Institute will hold its regular monthly meeting to-morrow afternoon at 2.30, in the Marigold Hall.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MRS. MARY ELDER

Mrs. Elder will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. Addressed envelopes forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

WHO WOULDN'T GET SICK?
Mrs. C. W. Writes: "Previously when I wrote you regarding my little girl of two years and ten months, who regurgitated when given a food she disliked, you replied that you thought she had formed the habit and that it was not real illness that caused vomiting. Now I want to know why it is that she is really sick after a visit where she gets food she does not get at home, such as fried potatoes, pork and pie, when children of the same age and even younger can eat this kind of food and have no ill effects? Whenever I give her anything out of the ordinary diet for her age she will vomit. My husband thinks she has a 'weak' stomach. Can this be so?"

ANSWER
One doesn't have to seek far for the answer to this question. There is small doubt but that the parent who would feed a child of two or under such foods as fried potatoes, fat pork and pie, has been guilty of equally terrible habits of feeding since the child was an infant. In that case, provided the child survived, he would have built up a resistance to such food as fried potatoes, pork and pie. Children have been known to thrive on all manner of strange and outrageous foods, largely because they got used to them.

Your baby has a more temperamental digestion and each new food should be fed carefully in very small quantities until the child becomes used to it. I doubt very much if a teaspoonful of any new food would cause the child to vomit from nausea or dislike of the food, while three or four tablespoons fed for the first time might do this very thing. You make a great mistake to try and imitate such bad feeding habits and the child shows good sense to refuse to digest them. Such foods are bad enough for the iron digestions of adults, and even they find such combinations giving trouble, but they are entirely out of place for a child.

Mrs. T. B. N.:
The use of salt water to syringe the nose of a baby who is suffering from a bad cold has one disadvantage. There is more than a possibility that the secretions from the nose may be forced into the ear canal and then you would have far more trouble than just a cold in the nose to contend with. This is pretty severe treatment for an infant of four months though it is fine for the father. Better use two or three drops of glycerol dropped in with an eye dropper, or a like amount of warmed alcohol.

SOCIAL PERSONAL

WOMEN'S SOCIETIES JOIN IN FAREWELL GIFT TO LADY BYNG

I.O.D.E. Local Council and Women's Institutes Take Action to Collect Funds

The suggestion that the women of Canada present a farewell gift to Her Excellency Lady Byng as a souvenir of her five years' sojourn in Canada and in appreciation of her unflinching interest in the work and welfare of the women of the Dominion has been received with much interest in Victoria, the recent visit of Lady Byng strengthening the affectionate regard in which she is held by the women of the West.

DELIGHTFUL CUSTOM
The idea of a farewell gift to Her Excellency originated in Ottawa, and Mrs. J. H. King is acting as treasurer for the fund. The delightful custom of presenting the chateleine of Rideau Hall with some souvenir of her residence on the eve of her return to Great Britain has been followed on several occasions, the gift to the late Duchess of Connaught taking the form of a handsome wrap made of Canadian fur, and that to the Duchess of Devonshire a diamond tiara in a maple-leaf design.

Mrs. Ernest Lapointe, wife of the Minister of Justice, is at the head of the general committee which communicated with the wives of the Premiers of the various provinces. Mrs. John Oliver, who received the letter notified Mayor Pendray, who has in turn communicated with the principal women's organizations, including the Local Council of Women and the Women's Institutes.

LOCAL DONATIONS
The Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E. reminds all its primary chapters that any donations to this fund, which must be personal donations, from members and friends of the chapter funds, should be sent to the Municipal treasurer, Mrs. H. K. Prior, not later than Monday, June 5.

The Local Council of Women is notifying its affiliated societies that donations should be sent in without delay to Mrs. Angus Galbraith, 111th Street.

CHILDREN RECEIVE FIRST COMMUNION

Pretty Ceremony at St. Andrew's Cathedral Yesterday Morning

St. Andrew's Cathedral was the scene of a beautiful little ceremony yesterday morning when thirty-one small children made their first communion. The high altar and the side altars were beautifully decorated with white roses and white carnations and gloved with white ribbons. Promptly at half-past nine the children, all in white, the little girls wearing white veils and the boys with white ribbons on their arms, entered the cathedral and marched in solemn procession up the centre aisle to the places assigned them. Little Marie Lewis Woodson, Victoria, bearing the banner, the four streamers of which were held by Susan Smythe, Marie Trudel, Sean Howard, and Roger O'Connell.

During the Mass, which was celebrated by Rev. Father Dealey, the girls' choir from St. Ann's Academy sang very sweetly a selection of appropriate hymns.

Rev. Father Dealey addressed the children very briefly, and in delightfully simple language, from the text "Blessed Little Children to Come Unto Me," and at the close of his address requested the children to make profession of their faith, which they did in unison, reciting the creed and the "Our Father" and the renewal of their baptismal vows.

When the moment for Holy Communion came, two white surpliced acolytes in scarlet cassocks and bearing lighted tapers, opened the gates of the chapel and came forth to conduct the procession of children into the sanctuary, where they knelt two and two on the steps of the altar to receive the Holy Eucharist. During the ceremony little Roma Trudel sang "Oh Lord, I Am Not Worthy."

Following the ceremony in the cathedral the children were taken in motor to the Knights of Columbus hall, where with Mrs. W. F. Baines and Mrs. Duncanson as hostesses, delicious breakfast was served them at small tables in the prettily decorated reading room. Two of the Sisters of St. Ann, who prepared the children and carefully trained them, assisted at the breakfast as well as in the cathedral, and Rev. Father Silver, rector, and Rev. Brother Bracken, principal of St. Louis College, were guests at the table of honor.

The names of the children were as follows: Marie Lewis Woodson, Mary Alexander, Irene Brockington, Angela Blance, Josephine Tobin, Es-

SWEDISH ROYALTIES AT BRUCE-MELLON WEDDING SATURDAY

Brilliant Social Function in New York Follows Simple Marriage Service

Washington, May 31.—To the national capital's most brilliant social function in years—the culmination of the romance of Alissa Mellon and David Kirkpatrick Esq. Bruce—was added the unexpected presence of European royalty.

Despite the announcement that a full programme would prevent the Crown Prince and Princess of Sweden joined with President and Mrs. Coolidge, the diplomatic corps, high government officials, social Washington and prominent visitors in wishing well to the daughter of the secretary of the treasury, and the son of Senator and Mrs. William C. Bruce of Baltimore, at the monster reception in the Pan-American Union Building. It followed their wedding at the stately Bethlehem Chapel of the Episcopal Cathedral of Peter and St. Paul at Mount St. Albans.

RESPLENDENT SCENE
The ceremony by which the daughter of one of the world's wealthiest men became the bride of an officer in the foreign service of the United States assigned to a vice-consulship at Rome, was of the simplest, but was surrounded by all that was splendid. The new Episcopal ceremony was used and the bride proposed to "love and cherish" but not necessarily "obey."

The President and Mrs. Coolidge arrived at the church one minute before noon and took seats in the first pew to the right of the altar. They were followed by the choir which proceeded slowly down the long aisle to its place.

To the organ strains of Lohengrin's "Wedding March," the bride, preceded by her bridesmaids, entered on the arm of her father. Her gown (Continued on page 15)

POPULAR COUPLE WED SATURDAY

Miss Kathleen Obee Became Bride of Alex McCormick at Pretty Ceremony

Concluding with the twenty-ninth anniversary of the marriage of the bride's parents, a pretty wedding took place at the Centennial United Church on Saturday evening, when Rev. J. H. Westman united in marriage Kathleen Mary, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Obee, and Alex, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. McCormick.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in her wedding gown of white crepe back satin made on long lines with side godets of georgette and finished at the low waist line with a silver rose. The hand-embroidered tulle veil was caught to the head with a band of orange blossoms. Her shower bouquet was of pale pink rose buds, white and pink sweet peas and maidenhair fern.

The maid of honor, Miss Violet Obee, sister of the bride, was gown in ashes of roses georgette and gold and she wore a band of gold in her hair. Miss Lillian Slesman, sister of the bride, wore a dainty frock of ruffled peach organdie and a band of silver leaves and peach tulle bow in her hair. The three attendants carried arm bouquets of pink roses and mauve sweet peas. The best man was Mr. Jim McCormick, brother of the groom, and the ushers were Mr. Ronald Moody, and Mr. Joe Almond.

For the reception held at the home of the bride's parents, 624 Gorge Road, the rooms were arranged with pink roses and early summer flowers. Mrs. Obee was assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. G. Hampton of Seattle. The three-tier wedding cake centred the table in the dining-room which was prettily decorated in pink and white. Mr. J. Sloan proposed the toast to the bride, to which the bridegroom responded. Mr. D. Sheret proposed the health of the bride's parents. Mr. Obee responded.

Dancing to the strains of Fidler's orchestra, a specially dance by little Miss Edith Obee, comic songs by Mr. Tom Obee, and community singing led by Mr. W. McCormick, were much enjoyed by the many guests. The gift of the groom to the bride was a pearl and emerald ring; to the maid of honor an ivory clock; to the bridesmaid a powder box; to

CHINAMAN IS ACCUSED ON GUN CHARGE

Possession Not Proved, Says Judge Lampman in County Court

Basing his judgment on the point of possession of the guns Judge Lampman in the County Court this morning dismissed the charge against Toy King, Victoria Chinaman, of harboring five Mauser pistols and a quantity of ammunition. The judge also stated that he did not agree with the valuation of over $200 placed on the guns and which valuation had been raised from under $200, making the offence an indictable one instead of a summary one.

Stuart Henderson, in his submission, argued that the Crown had failed to produce any evidence at all to show that the accused ever had possession of the guns. He also vigorously attacked the method by which the value was arrived at.

Reference to hardware and iron in documents seized from accused referred to guns, J. B. Clearhue, Crown counsel, argued. The documents also showed, he submitted, that the guns were sent out of the country in shipments of herring. He quoted authority to support his arguments that an accused could not be held liable for possession of goods in a building that did not belong to him.

"If your charge was that he was concerned with these goods your case would be better," the judge told Mr. Henderson, when he had quoted a case in support of his submissions.

"We have shown him as in control of these goods, holding in his possession the actual document which would show him to get them. Either he went there to get them and was frightened when he saw policemen there, or he went to check up on them to find a key. Not one of the letters taken from Toy King was written by accused. They all came from some other source. Important connecting links had not been established and as far as Mr. Clearhue claimed, that accused was the principal in a system.

"ON SUSPICION"

Mr. Henderson stressed his submission that accused had never had possession of the guns. He said the evidence had gone ahead on suspicion and they asked the judge to do the same and bridge defects. Neither in accused's house or in his pocket did they find a key. Not one of the letters taken from Toy King was written by accused. They all came from some other source. Important connecting links had not been established and as far as Mr. Clearhue claimed, that accused was the principal in a system.

Mr. Henderson quoted at length from the documents produced by the Crown. They might refer to ordinary business transactions, but the prosecution asked the court to believe suspicions they themselves created. They had made no effort to prove these suspicions. The customs men and mounted police officers jumped in so precipitately that they destroyed all possible chances of getting evidence and then asked the court to go on suspicion.

CRITICIZES VALUATION

Criticizing the value set by the prosecution on the goods, Mr. Henderson said in Vancouver they had been valued at $25 by the same customs officer who set a higher value on them in Montreal. The value placed on the goods by the Department of Customs by the Deputy Minister was $197.92. No other value had been set by the Minister, said Mr. Henderson, speaking on the amendment in the charge from "under $200" to "over $200," changing it from a summary to an indictable offence.

It was not the intention of the act that officers should swear to value, as they had done on this case; that was the duty of an appraiser.

DOUBTS VALUE

Judge Lampman in giving judgment said there had been considerable evidence as to value, most of which was unsatisfactory. This had been largely due to the fact that they were not permitted to be sold here. The evidence as to what they had been sold for in Vancouver after seizure there had not been offered. He doubted if the value of the guns was over $200, but did not base his judgment on the grounds.

The charge said that accused harbored these guns, but the evidence had not been strong enough to prove this. If there were some charge provided for being concerned the prosecution would probably have obtained a conviction. He had no doubt accused could, if he had produced the pieces of card, secured possession of the guns. There was, however, a reasonable doubt which accused should get the benefit of.

VETERAN PILOT PASSES AT ADVANCED AGE IN VANCOUVER

Capt. Wm. Ettershank, Aged 84, Came to Coast in Clipper Julia in 1863

Was Widely Known as Master Mariner and Pilot in B.C. Waterways

Vancouver, May 31.—Capt. William Ettershank, aged eighty-four, who came to British Columbia as second mate of the clipper passenger ship Julia in 1863, veteran skipper and pilot, well known all over the North Pacific Coast, and to mariners all over the world, died Sunday at his residence here.

The Cariboo goldfield lured many of the Julia's passengers, and some of the crew, in 1863, and Capt. "Billy" joined the rush. He was back to the coast in a year, however, for the Cariboo took all his savings and gave him back nothing but experience.

For a time he was employed on trading and freighting schooners between Vancouver, Victoria, Nanaimo and Alberni.

In 1869 he and three others decided to make a trip to Honolulu. They obtained the schooner Alpha and started out, only to come to grief off the entrance of Barkley Sound. The Alpha was wrecked and the men stranded on the barren coast. It was in December, snow was deep on the ground and they had practically no food. Nothing daunted, they started back through the forest to Nanaimo. It was Christmas Eve when they reached their destination, weary and hungry.

After the experience Capt. Ettershank stayed with the coasting business for many years. In 1877 he was appointed one of the official pilots to the harbor of British Columbia, and followed that calling until 1920, taking his regular turn with the youngsters of the profession in handling the harbor.

Capt. "Billy's" record as a pilot during over forty years of active practice, was as clean as a whistle. Following his retirement in 1920 Captain Ettershank continued an active interest in the growth of Vancouver's port. For a time he was secretary of the B.C. Pilots Association, being followed to that position by his son, Roy Ettershank.

Private funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. to-day, and cremation will take place at Mountain View cemetery.

WOODED HULKS TO MAKE BIG BONFIRE

Thirteen Vessels Built During War to be Burned Near Seattle

Seattle, May 31.—Within the next few days thirteen vessels, designed during the wartime shipbuilding era, to help save the world for democracy, but which were eventually placed in the inactive class and later sold to the Government as so much junk, will be fuel of a big bonfire shortly to be staged by the Washington Tug and Barge Company, which concern bought the hulks from the shipping board.

The thirteen vessels to be burned at Richmond Beach in the near future were originally launched and christened under the shipbuilding regime by the following names: Clatsop, Cadria, Capitan, Leota, Elissa, Electra, Chesterfield, Cabasan, Puyallup, Corus, Cenina, Kitan and Jucadia. All of these vessels are of wood construction and were built at Seattle, Tacoma and Grays Harbor shipyards, and were not completed in accordance with the orders of the United States Shipping Board, following the cessation of hostilities late in 1918.

For several years these hulks remained in Lake Union as the property of the Government, but three or four years ago were sold to a Pacific Coast junk dealer, who later disposed of them to the Washington Tug and Barge Company, which concern, after utilizing several similar type vessels in mercantile pursuits, now propose to burn the above-named hulks for the metal in them.

Richmond Beach has been selected as the scene of the pyrotechnic display, which will be staged as soon as the beaching of the entire thirteen hulks side by side, for it is planned to burn the fleet simultaneously.

The steamer is bound for Port Arthur with a cargo of steel.

The Nesbit Grammar left Port Dalhousie at 10.30 last night.

PEACE COMING IN SYRIA, SAYS DE JOUVENAL

Alexandria, Egypt, May 31.—Henri de Jovenal, French High Commissioner of Syria, believes peace is coming to Syria, immediately and unconditionally.

He made this known to an Associated Press correspondent in the course of an interview obtained entirely by wireless from the steamer Sphinx, bearing the High Commissioner to France.

"Why are you returning to Paris at this stage of affairs in Syria?" the correspondent queried from another liner sixty miles away.

Unhesitatingly the wireless spelled out the reply: "I am returning to France because I consider all danger is passed; that the war is finished; that submission and surrender of the Druze tribesmen are progressing along the lines of a regular ordained schedule; that few bands are left in the field, and that henceforth they are powerless to create disorders on a large scale."

MARINE INQUIRY TO BE HELD TO-MORROW

"BROWN OF HARVARD," WITH WILLIAM HAINES IN TITLE ROLE, COMES TO DOMINION

Jack Pickford and Francis X. Bushman Jr. Have Important Parts in Story of College Life

A tradition has been built up about all stage and screen college boys. They must enter with a "Rah-Rah," wear their hair slicked back, play tricks on their friends, and be true to the little girl back home, which is about as true as the belief that all chorus girls are supporting the little grey haired mother back home, just dancing with a broken heart.

William Haines rudely shatters the dream about the college boy in "Brown of Harvard," by making him one of the most human, likable, devilish Don Juans ever seen in "Deah Old Harvard." This Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture opens a six days' run to-day at the Dominion Theatre. He dispenses with all mock heroics, yet instills in the audience his genuine love for his Alma Mater. It is the greatest role he has ever had the opportunity to portray, and he gives it all the vigor, charm and frank Americanism for which he has become famous.

SHY YOUTH IN STORY

Jack Pickford plays the part of Doolittle, a shy, backward, youth who suffers from an inferiority complex. Pickford brings out the warmth of the character as no other actor could, and while he is the most sympathetic character in the picture, he makes the audience understand why he is the least popular boy in college.

Mary Brian has the leading feminine role, and as usual gives a delightful performance. She is growing in histrionism with each picture, and as Mary Abbott in "Brown of Harvard," justifies the promise that she showed as Wendy in "Peter Pan."

That charming character actress, Mary Alden, plays the mother of Brown, and David Torrence is his father. Francis X. Bushman Jr., gives a very pleasing performance as MacAndrews, the rival of Brown, and shows promise of being as great a favorite as his father.

The picture was directed by Jack Conway with all his usual skill, though it is by far the best picture he has ever done. Ernest Gillen, Edward Connelly and Guinn Williams complete the cast.

SAN FRANCISCO RADIO BAND AT DOMINION

This week at the Dominion Theatre the management are presenting an added attraction de luxe in the form of Dwight Johnson and his orchestra. This wonderful aggregation of instrumentalists come to Victoria after playing for nearly two years for Kala Bros. radio station KFO at San Francisco, from the St. Francis Hotel, at which this orchestra resides.

Victoria radio fans have long enjoyed their music over the air, and now the opportunity to hear this wonderful orchestra in person should prove to be a musical treat that is outstanding in the annals of musical presentations in the theatre. Every member of this aggregation is a soloist of no mean ability, as will be evidenced when they are heard at the Dominion Theatre all this week, where they will render a special programme of novelties every afternoon and evening.

Mr. Johnson has promised the management that their programme for the week will bid fair to be the best that this orchestra has given in either the theatre or over the air.

BOYS IN STOLEN CAR CAUGHT BY POLICE

Four Vancouver Lads Got as Far as Lynden, Washington

Vancouver, May 31.—Four youths of from twelve to fourteen years of age were held in the detention home for boys here to-day following a midnight joyride in a stolen automobile which was brought to a halt early yesterday morning by revolver shots from Washington State police south of Blaine.

While F. E. Antill was looking out of his office window here on Saturday evening he saw the boys climb into his car and speed away. He notified the police, who in turn gave a description of the joyriders to United States authorities.

The car sped past the Blaine customs office shortly after midnight and the chase which followed ended near Lynden, Washington, only after the pursuing officers had fired at the young fugitives.

GLORIA SWANSON COMES TO CAPITOL FOR WEEK IN "THE UNTAMED LADY"

Vehicle Written by Fanny Hurst Shows the Popular Paramount Star as Lively Society Girl

If "The Untamed Lady," at the Capitol Theatre this week, had nothing more to recommend it than the fact that Gloria Swanson stars in it, it would still be well worth seeing, for Gloria can always be depended upon for a capital performance.

However, the glamorous Miss Swanson is amply supported in this instance by a story worthy of her talents—one, in fact, especially written for her by Fannie Hurst, noted U. S. author—by a surrounding cast of capable and experienced players, including Lawrence Gray, Joseph Smiley, Thomas Holding and Charles Graham, and by the directorial assistance of Frank Tuttle.

The plot, which James Creelman adapted for screen purposes, centres around Gloria, in the role of a wealthy society heiress with an un-governable temper. Of course, any one endowed by nature with more than the average share of good looks and who, in addition, is the proud possessor of twenty million dollars, has a perfect right to be independent, but Gloria does go to extremes in doing as she pleases.

Cheering for Yale, while sitting in the Princeton stand, during a Yale-Princeton football game; attending a smart social function in a bathing suit; interrupting a famous musician at an exclusive musicale; these are some of her exploits that cause her friends much anguish of spirit. Incidentally, they are responsible for her punctured romances, since love and temper do not mix.

Along comes Larry Gray, fiance No. 4, and then the fun begins in earnest! Larry gets the idea into his head that it is up to him to tame her, and he almost breaks his neck before he realizes that Gloria doesn't take kindly to his caveman stuff. However, love finds a way in the end, and everything turns out happily.

Of more than ordinary interest are the yacht scenes, showing Gloria shovelling coal in the boiler room at the height of a raging storm. An exciting horseback chase, in which Gray takes a dangerous fall and other of the striking features.

ARMS EXPERTS ARE DEBATING REDUCTION

Military Experts, Instructed By Disarmament Commission, Meet in Geneva

Geneva, May 31.—The advice to deal with what is tangible and visible if useful results are to be obtained in bringing about a reduction and limitation of armaments is given by Brig.-General Dennis E. Nolan, an army officer of the United States, who had distinguished service in France, to his disarmament colleagues.

General Nolan, speaking in behalf of the United States delegation and as chief of the United States military experts before the disarmament commission's expert committee, discussed the fundamental question, "What are armaments?"

By tangible and visible armaments, General Nolan explained, he meant existing military and naval establishments, together with reserves of material. His idea was that these were the things which could be reduced or limited, whereas what was called potential war resources could not be limited at any conference.

The question, however, of "reducing the reducible" was linked with the problem of potential resources, because the latter must be taken into consideration in determining what weight should be given to potential power in fixing the ultimate reduction of armaments for the various countries.

FACTORS ESTIMATED
Examining the so-called potential powers, General Nolan said the United States view was that the various factors on which the power of a country depended in war time included: first, geography; topography and climate; second, population and social conditions; third, the political situation; fourth, the economic situation; and fifth, existing military and naval establishments.

Under economic situations he listed material resources, food, raw materials, manufactures, munitions, capacity for transportation and communications, foreign commerce and finance.

France, Sweden and Italy, all submitted memoranda on Saturday explaining their views on what constitutes armaments. The French document, especially detailed, caused some confusion by including in armaments the "totality of human and material resources and resources or elements of every nature which a nation can employ for conduct of war."

OPINIONS DIFFER
This was tantamount to putting in every conceivable potential element, and was getting far away from the United States idea of restricting reduction to tangible, visible military, naval and air establishments.

The French memorandum concluded by declaring all potential elements cited in detail were interdependent and that it was impossible to establish clear distinction between factors which were and were not purely military unless the examination was confined to so-called peace-time armaments.

The French will be asked for further explanations as to their position.

Esquimalt Garden Fete—Mrs. R. H. Pooley has consented to open a garden fete which, under the auspices of the Esquimalt Women's Institute, will be held on Thursday, June 3, at the residence of the president, Mrs. Booth, 928 Esquimalt Road. Afternoon tea will be served on the shady lawn, and some other attractions there will be a stall of home cooking, an apron stall, plain and fancy needlework, ice cream and candies. The children will find entertainment at the fish-pond, which has been provided for their amusement, and in games.

"STUDENT PRINCE" OPENS TO-NIGHT AT THE ROYAL

Transfer Wagons Haul Heavy Loads For Magnificent Production

Schubert Offering One of Largest to Come Here in Years

The magnificence of "The Student Prince," which opens a three-night engagement at the Royal to-night, with a special priced matinee being given on Wednesday, is best proven by the fact that since early this morning transfer wagons have been hauling the scenery, costumes and effects from the dock to the theatre.

"The Student Prince" is a big show, probably the largest that has come to Victoria in years. Its personnel numbers over 100 people. It is bringing to Victoria two of the members of the original New York company; Howard Marsh and Ilse Marvenga, who play and sing the roles of "The Prince" and "Kathie" respectively. They both created the roles they will sing here.

Bertram Peacock created the role of "Franz Schubert" in "Blossom Time." He will be heard here in "The Student Prince" as "Dr. Engle," the "Prince's" tutor. The balance of the organization is of New York standard; Alec Harford and Al Froom, both of London, England, have exciting roles; Douglas Leavitt and Ruth Lockwood are responsible for the comedy element; A. W. Callan, a Canadian, is one of the leaders of the student male ensemble of sixty trained voices. There are twenty-one girls with the organization. A popular-priced matinee will be given on Wednesday.

"The Merry Widow" With Mae Murray Comes to Columbia

Brilliant Star Plays Title Role in Great Production

Mae Murray, the brilliant star who plays the title role in "The Merry Widow," at the Columbia this week, under Erich von Stroheim, a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, was born in Portsmouth, Va.

At the age of fifteen, she made her first appearance on the stage in the chorus of the "Ziegfeld Follies. A year later she distinguished herself in this review as the Nell Brinkley girl.

After scoring an individual dancing success in "Her Little Highness," she became identified with several of New York's most brilliant dance-and-dine rooms.

At the height of the dance fever, Miss Murray showed foresight in seeking to develop herself in yet another medium. She saw the possibilities of the screen. Her first opportunity came in 1915—while she was in the Follies, to which she had returned for a season. In that production one of the novelties was a short motion picture interlude in which she appeared. Her skilful pantomime led to many motion picture offers.

Miss Murray made her first picture, "To Have and To Hold," for Paramount. Then she starred in a number of films. In June, 1918, Miss Murray and Robert Z. Leonard, who had directed her in pictures, were married. They then formed the Tiffany Productions, Inc., releasing their product through Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

The photoplays produced and released under these auspices have proved to be the greatest successes of Miss Murray's career. They include "Peacock Alley," "Fascination," "Broadway Rose," "Jazzmania," "Fashion Row," "Mile. Midnight" and "Circus the Enchantress."

Solarium Films Shown.—The pictures taken on the occasion of the visit of Their Excellencies Lord and Lady Byng to the Solarium site at Mill Bay recently will be shown in conjunction with the regular programme at the Capitol Theatre all this week.

ONTARIO WINS OUT

Uncle Wiggily's Bread Boat

Copyright, 1926, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

By HOWARD R. GARIS

"Quick, Uncle Wiggily! Quick!" cried Nurse Jane Fussy Wuzzy one afternoon, as she hopped to the kitchen door of the hollow stump bungalow. Mr. Longears was out in the yard watching a cabbage grow.

"What's the matter?" he asked, as well he might do, for the muskrat lady housekeeper seemed very much excited. "What shall I be quick about?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "Is the fox coming?"

"No, but Aunt Lettie is, and the goat lady will be sure to stay to tea, your wife says, and we haven't a slice of bread in the house. I was going to bake some, but now I haven't time," answered Nurse Jane. "Do you want me to bake some bread?" asked the rabbit gentleman, with a funny twinkle of his pink nose. "Oh, no!" laughed Nurse Jane. "But if you could be quick, it would be in time for tea and Aunt Lettie would never know that we had to send out for bread at the last minute.

"I'll go," said Uncle Wiggily. So, telling the cabbage to grow as fast as it could while he was gone, the rabbit gentleman began to hop to the bakery.

It did not take him long to get there, and the dusty old miller dog, who made bread, pie, cake and crullers for the animals of Woodland near the Orange Ice Mountains, wrapped a loaf in paper for Mr. Longears and tied it with a string. Then, carrying the loaf of bread under his paw, Uncle Wiggily started to hop back to his hollow stump bungalow.

"I hope I get there in time for tea," he said to himself, twinkling his pink nose quicker so he could hop along faster. But going fast made the bunny gentleman's rheumatism pain him, so when he came to the bank of the Wide Brook he sat down on the green, mossy bank to rest.

And as he was sitting there, with the loaf of bread beside him, all of a sudden Uncle Wiggily heard a sad voice saying:

"Oh, dear! How am I ever going to get across?"

"Ha! This is some one in trouble, I'm sure," said Mr. Longears to himself, and, being very fond of helping those in trouble, he looked about to see what he might do. He saw a little bird sitting on a stump not far away and the bird seemed very sad.

"What is the matter?" asked Uncle Wiggily, "and where do you want to get across?"

"I want to cross the Wide Brook," was the answer.

"Then why don't you fly over it?" asked the bunny. "You can easily do that, I'm sure."

"I could if I didn't have a lame wing," chirped the bird. "But I can't fly, and the brook is too deep to wade. How can I ever get across and back to my nest on the other side, where I can rest until my sore wing gets better? How can I?"

"I'll help you," said Uncle Wiggily. "I'll make a boat of the loaf of bread and ride you over the brook. That's a fine idea. Are you fond of bread crumbs?"

"Very fond of them," chirped the bird.

So the rabbit gentleman scooped the middle out of the loaf of bread, breaking it up into crumbs, which he fed the hungry bird. When she had eaten, the rabbit gentleman tenderly placed the bird in the little hollow scooped-out place in the loaf of bread. Next he tied a string to the loaf. Then Uncle Wiggily jumped the brook, and when he was safe on the other side he pulled over to him, by the string, the bread boat with the bird in it.

"Oh, thank you!" she chirped. "Thank you! Now I can walk home to my nest," and she did, for her nest was on the ground, so she didn't have to fly up to it.

When Uncle Wiggily got home with the loaf of bread Nurse Jane said:

"Why, it's half gone and the other half is wet!" And when the bunny told of building a boat to help the bird the muskrat lady laughed and said: "Oh, that's all right! I'll make a bread pudding of the loaf. Aunt Lettie likes bread pudding, and this loaf is already soaked. But, Uncle Wiggily, asked Nurse Jane, 'why didn't you put the bird in your pocket when you jumped across the brook? Then you wouldn't have had to make a bread boat.'"

"Ha! Ha! I never thought of that!" laughed Mr. Longears. And if rag doll's eye-glasses can find a cap to fit the head of cabbage, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's June Walk.

John Nixon Died In Terminal City

Vancouver, May 31.—The funeral of the late John Nixon, who passed away at his home on Fifty-first Avenue Saturday morning, will be held at 3.30 p.m. to-day, interment to be in the Ocean View Burial Park. Rev. Robert Wilkenson will officiate.

Nixon, 62, was in his eighty-sixth year and had been in comparatively good health for a man of his age. Enjoying his supper Friday evening, he remarked he felt better than usual, and retired to rest. Early the following morning it was discovered he had died.

A native of Ontario, he farmed in Manitoba for more than twenty years, coming to British Columbia fourteen years ago to spend the remainder of his life in retirement from active affairs.

He is survived by six sons, John and Joe of Vancouver; Bruce, Walnut Grove, and Rev. Hugh Nixon, Nainville, and two others and three daughters in Manitoba. Mrs. Nixon predeceased her husband in her eighty-fourth year, eighteen months ago.

In Freeing Two U.S. Citizens in Mexico Soldiers Killed Two Robbers

Laredo, Texas, May 31.—Four of the five United States citizens kidnapped in Mexico by bandits and held for ransom have been released.

The release of Conrad C. Braden and Jules C. Gallagher, United States mining men captured May 18, was effected after a battle in which two bandits were killed and one wounded, a telegram received by United States Consul Harry M. Walsh at Nuevo Laredo states.

The message, which was sent by Consul Yost at Turreon, Mexico, said the bandits were surrounded by Mexican troops sent to rescue Braden and Gallagher. When trapped, the bandits put up a stiff fight. Their leader, Gallardo, was reported wounded. Six horses they had stolen were recovered.

Braden, who formerly resided in Laredo, and Gallagher of San Antonio were liberated unharmed and returned Saturday to Mapimi, with the troops. Consul Yost's message said the soldiers did excellent work and the Mexican authorities gave full co-operation.

The two mining men were captured by the bandits May 18 at Braden's mine near Discubridero, Durango. They were held for a ransom of 5,000 pesos.

Two employees of a British oil company, Briggs and Greenley, who were captured last Thursday by bandits in the Tampico region, have been liberated, say advices from Mexico City.

John W. Shanklin of Canyon City, Texas, whose death had been threatened by bandits holding him for ransom in the state of Vera Cruz, still is in the hands of his captors so far as is known. Although the bandits threatened to kill him last Thursday if the ransom was not paid at that time, officials in Mexico City, in the absence of any direct word as to his fate, expressed the belief Shanklin was alive.

Seattle Tennis Team Wins By Single Point

Victoria Players Gain Even Break in Singles, But Only Took Two Doubles to Visitors' Three; Turrene Shows Sparkling Form and His Doubles With Marion Was Outstanding; Proctor Injures Side and May Be Out of Canadian Championships

One point was the margin by which the Seattle tennis team emerged victorious yesterday over the Victoria stars in the first international match of the season played at the Willows courts before 1,600 enthusiastic spectators. The tail of the Victoria team wielded mean rackets, and offset much of the advantage which had been scored by the Seattle aces against the pillars of the local team.

In the singles each team counted five victories, which left it up to the double combinations to decide the issue. Here Seattle held the edge, winning three matches, while the best Victoria could do was to win the other pair, which left them one in arrears in the grand total.

TURENE A STAR

Leon de Turrene, who has been a commanding figure in Northwest tennis circles for several years, was the outstanding player in the series here. Turrene, who is a Canadian by birth, hailing from Montreal, was pitted against Johnny Proctor, the kingpin of the singles men of this city. Johnny played under a heavy handicap, having just completed a long, hard motor ride from Up-Island with his brother, who was ill. He arrived at the courts late as a result, but jumped into the game.

Proctor could not settle down in the first set, and Turrene took six games in a row. There were a lot of long rallies in this set, but Turrene always had the extra punch. Proctor took the first five games in the second set, with his service coming up, but Turrene crashed through and won two love games. The next two games went to deuce and then Turrene came on to win. His service at the end of the match and Proctor could not handle it.

THE "BOY WONDER"

Howard Langlie, sixteen years old, called the "boy wonder," playing No. 2, disposed of Marshall Gordon, 6-4, 7-5, after a very lively match. Gordon found it hard to volley from the forehand drive of Langlie, which had a tremendous top on it. Langlie had a nice break on his service. Gordon pushed Langlie at times, but was beaten at the courts late as a result, but jumped into the game.

Quillian defeated Gerald Cunningham by similar scores to those recorded in the Langlie-Gordon match. Eric McCallum started off well against Marion, winning his first two services, but the Seattle man broke through and won the set. McCallum played more strongly in the second set.

The Hoogs brothers, who hail from the Hawaiian Islands, were both beaten by the Seattle stars. Their first experience on grass courts, and they could not get the hang of it. However, they exhibited considerable ability. O'Halloran, by his steadiness, beat Bob Hoogs, 6-3, 7-5. Verley was carried to three sets by Albert Hoogs, while J. Cunningham beat Dick Hoogs.

Cliff Collier, captain of the Victoria team, and J. F. Meredith contributed victories, while Eric Martin, a youngster who is coming to the front fast, carried John Hoogs, 6-3, 7-5 to three sets before he was subdued.

A FINE COMBINATION

Turrene and Marion form one of the best double combinations that has been seen here for some time. They defeated Gordon and McCallum, the best doubles in this city, by 6-2, 7-5. Turrene scored ace after ace on his back-hand. The Seattle men had a harder service and their returns were better. McCallum, whose back-hand smash is usually effective, could not control it in the wind.

While playing with Garrett in the doubles Proctor tore a muscle in his left side, which will put him out of the game for some time. It is hoped that he will be fit for the Canadian championships next month, but no assurance could be given of that by the medical adviser. Proctor and Garrett lost their doubles to Langlie and Quillian 7-5, 6-1. The locals came within one point of winning the first set, but then they netted a return on a ball that seemed to be going out, the Seattle men came through and won.

The Hoogs brothers bested the Cunningham brothers in a family affair, 6-4, 6-1.

Verley and A. H. McCallum and McGovern and Merston were the Victorians who won their doubles matches. Both won comfortably and showed signs of developing into very effective doubles combinations.

The Victorians were entertained to dinner at the Empress last night by the Victoria team.

The results were as follows:

SINGLES

Leon de Turrene, Seattle, beat John Proctor, Victoria, 6-0, 7-5.

Howard Langlie, Seattle, beat D. M. Gordon, Victoria, 6-4, 7-5.

W. Quillian, Seattle, beat G. Cunningham, Victoria, 7-5, 6-4.

Armand Marion, Seattle, beat Eric McCallum, Victoria, 6-2, 6-4.

J. Cunningham, Victoria, beat Dick Hoogs, Seattle, 6-3, 6-4.

C. H. O'Halloran, Victoria, beat Bob Hoogs, Seattle, 6-4, 6-3.

St. L. K. Verley, Victoria, beat Albert Hoogs, Seattle, 6-2, 7-5, 6-4.

C. S. Collier, Victoria, beat W. L. Warren, Seattle, 6-0, 6-4.

John Ryan, Seattle, beat Eric Martin, Victoria, 6-3, 1-6, 6-2.

J. F. Meredith, Victoria, beat Angus Chist, Seattle, 6-4, 2-6, 6-4.

DOUBLES

Turrene and Marion, Seattle, beat D. M. Gordon and Eric McCallum, Victoria, 6-2, 6-3.

Langlie and Quillian, Seattle, beat J. S. Proctor and H. G. Garrett, Victoria, 7-5, 6-1.

D. Hoogs and B. Hoogs, Seattle, beat McGovern and Merston, Victoria, 6-2, 6-4.

A. H. McCallum and L. K. Verley, Seattle, 6-2, 6-4.

Cleveland, Runners-up Ten Days Ago, Drop to Sixth Place

New, May 31.—Last year's champions are down as the main attraction in the big league baseball this week with the Washington Senators in an attempt to rock the Yanks from the American League peak and the Pirates in an effort to unseat the Reds from the National pinnacle.

Washington went eleven innings yesterday to take a 4 to 3 decision from Boston Red Sox and advanced into third place in the standings.

In anticipation of the opening series with the Senators, Col. Ruppert's Riffles riddled the Athletics in the final of their four-game meeting to win 3-1. The Pirates are now in second place, having won four consecutive victories before more than 50,000 fans at the Yankee stadium.

Soccer Uprising Over Sunday Football Game

John Easton, President of Dominion Football Association, and Tom Mitchell, Vice-president, Resign When Game in Montreal Is Staged; Sunday Football Forbidden at Last Annual Meeting of D.F.A., But Quebec Defies Authority

Winnipeg, May 31.—John Easton, president of the Dominion Football Association, has resigned as a result of yesterday's soccer game played in Montreal.

Mr. Easton had declared he would resign if the plans for the Sunday game between the Brooklyn Wanderers and Carsteel of Montreal were carried out.

His resignation has been forwarded to Sam Davidson, secretary of the Dominion Football Association, who is traveling with the touring English soccer team.

Mr. Easton refused to comment last night but his stand against Sunday soccer, and particularly the manner in which permission was granted for the game, has been made clear in interviews granted here in the last two days.

His resignation is the second to occur as a result of Sunday football. Tom Mitchell, Montreal, vice-president of the league, sent his resignation to Mr. Easton last week, with a request that it be accepted if the game was played on Sunday. Mr. Easton declined to accept the resignation, stating that he would resign himself if the game were played.

The resignation of officials of the Dominion Football Association is the culmination of a move for Sunday soccer begun before the last annual meeting of the D.F.A. in Vancouver. The issue was put before the meeting by the Quebec soccer governing body, and was defeated 21 to 2. Matters came to a head last Friday when it was announced that following a wire from the members of the Dominion Football Association, permission had been given for a game between the Brooklyn Wanderers and Carsteel of Montreal to take place Sunday, May 30.

When informed of this decision, Tom Mitchell, D.F.A. vice-president, submitted his resignation to Mr. Easton. Mr. Easton, in an interview, declared that "if the council insists on settling issues of this nature outside the annual meeting, which is the proper place for them, I will be forced to resign myself."

The day before the game was to be played he declared: "If they play all decided once and if the council make a new ruling they can do so under a new president. I am absolutely opposed to Sunday football in any way, shape or form."

Montreal, May 31.—Brooklyn Wanderers and Carsteel, of Montreal, played to a 2 to 2 draw in a speedy soccer exhibition here yesterday afternoon.

Toronto, May 31.—Referring at Saturday's banquet given by the Toronto District Football Association in honor of the English and Toronto players, to the permit given by the Dominion of Canada Football Association Council to the Carsteel Club of Montreal to play Brooklyn Wanderers at Montreal on Sunday, Arthur J. Kingscott, president of the English Football Association, who is in charge of the touring party, stated that any man in the Netherlands who dared to breathe a suggestion in favor of Sunday soccer would be thrown out of the game forever and the Dominion Football Association must act in conformity with the rules of the F.F.A., with which body it was affiliated. The F.F.A. laid down distinctly that there must not be Sunday football and any association that broke this rule would cease to be members of the august body. It would be suspended straight away.

Johnny Miles Will Run In Boston on June 12

Sydney, N.S., May 31.—John C. Miles, 29-year-old Cape Breton champion marathoner, will leave for the United States within the next two weeks to take part in a ten-mile run at Melrose, Boston, on June 12, his father, John W. Miles, informed the Canadian Press to-day. Miles will compete in a number of maritime events during the coming month.

HORSE RACING

Calgary, May 31.—"Old Kentucky" celebrated for its blue glass and thoroughbred furnished the winner of the Empire claiming purse, a gallop of a mile and a sixteenth, which was the feature offering Saturday afternoon. This was St. Angelina, the daughter of the one time grand state horse, Seaboard, and the mare China Chis. Paying in excess of 13 to 1, the mare brought joy to those fortunate enough to turn their faith in her ability to the track.

First race, $400, for three-year-olds and up, about five furlongs—Irish Jury, $24.00, third, Time 1:51.5. Second race, $400, for three-year-olds and up, about five furlongs—Bill McCoy, $4.35, second, $2.50, won; Lucky Hays, $3.25, second, $2.00, won; Some Baby, $2.50, third, Time 1:51.5.

Fourth race, $400, for three-year-olds and up, mile—Ulation, $4.00, $3.25, won; La, $2.50, second, $2.00, won; La Una, $2.25, third, Time 1:45 3-5. Toronto, May 31.—With three of the events on the program stake features with $5,000 added money to each, the Ontario Jockey Club's Spring meeting closed in a veritable blaze of glory on Saturday and a crowd of some 25,000 racing fans witnessed the excellent sport furnished.

A thrilling finish resulted in the fourth running of the Alintree steeplechase, when Cambarin came home behind to beat out Gunboat by a head.

An intermediate lacrosse game will be held at the Royal Athletic Park to-morrow evening at 8:30 o'clock when the Esquimaux-Victoria West twelve appear against the Sons of Canada, the league leaders.

A real good, clean game is promised. Cyril Baker will referee and Alex Stevens will be the judge of play.

Lively Hitting In Cricket Match At Hill On Saturday

Cowichan and Two C's Each Fail to Complete an Innings. Owing to Hard Hitting

Bowlers Have Complete Control of Two Other Games Played in City

There was some lively hitting in the match between Cowichan and the Two C's at Beacon Hill on Saturday afternoon. Cowichan put on 210 runs for eight wickets and Two C's replied with their best batting display of the season, 179 for seven wickets. Thirteen batsmen reached double figures, Gravett, of Cowichan, being high man with 77. Penderay, of Two C's, hit a 41, while Heinekey went along for a 40.

In the other two games played in the city the bowlers were the masters. Victoria squeezed through over the Albions, winning by 111 to 94, while the Five C's and the Harlequins went at it for two innings.

Five C's scored but 59 in their first knock, while Victoria only scored 67. In the second innings Five C's made 92 for six wickets and Victoria 94 for eight wickets.

ENGLISH LADIES WIN FIRST TWO MATCHES OF FRENCH SERIES

Paris, May 31.—International lawn tennis matches between teams representing France and Great Britain got under way to-day. A similar series of matches between France and the United States was concluded yesterday, the United States players winning 8-3.

England scored the first victory to-day when Mrs. Baron defeated Mlle. Desclaux, 7-5, 6-3.

Mrs. Godfree, England, defeated Mlle. Mathieu, 6-4, 6-0, while Mlle. Dève defeated Mrs. McIlhenny 6-1, 6-2.

Eagles and Sons Provide Baseball Fun This Evening

Feathered Tribe Will Attempt to Hang up First Win; Ross and Curtis to Pitch

New Players Will Aid Eagles; Empires Defeat C.P.R. in Exhibition Game

In their fourth attempt to put across a victory, the Eagles will oppose the Sons of Canada to-night with a much strengthened lineup. At present they are holding down the cellar position.

A new third-sacker in "Hap" Gandy will appear with them to-night. Gandy, figured as the premier man of the league at the hot corner, will be a decided asset to the Eagles. Besides his fielding ability, his batting is not to be sneezed at. "Hap" can clout them as far as most and can usually be depended upon for a safe hit in a pinch.

Ross Miller, who played with the Sons, last season, has also signed with the Eagles. Ross has great batting powers. Bert Nex, the other addition to the birdmen's lineup, with them last year. He will probably cover the second base. Frank Moore, the Eagles' manager, may take the field to help his team to victory.

Perry Ross is slated to do the pitching for the Eagles to-night. Ross has turned in very creditable performances this season so far and will turn the tables on the Sons this evening.

Jack Curtis, a southpaw, has been selected to shoulder the burden for the Sons.

The game will commence at 6:15 with Allie McGregor as umpire.

Through services of the senior players who opposed each other in the exhibition game at the Royal on Saturday, the intermediates will get their backs up at Beacon Hill Park.

The Empires pulled the wool over the eyes of the C.P.R. and won the usual 3-2. Jack Curtis went the whole route for the Empires and whiffed ten batters. Pollard, who commenced for the C.P.R., failed to stick it when he injured his hand in the seventh session. He was released by Jack Curtis.

In the first, fourth, seventh and eighth the Empires scored. "Lex" Johnson was the star batsman for the Empires, making three cracks in as many tries. Jimmy Gurney secured two out of five, Hilton and Noble got two hits each for the C.P.R.

Two runs in the eighth and one in the ninth was the sum of the C.P.R. scoring. Two hits and an error contributed to the tallies in the eighth. "Bob" Mine umpired and a teams were:

Empires—Johnson, Givens, Milne, Dunn, Holman, Salloway, Cummins, Le May, C. and b. Verrall.

Macaulay Golfers See Their Champion Beat Frank Thomas

But That Let Them Out as Colwood Won Team Match
By 34½ Points to 3¼

Macaulay Point golfers engaged in a team match at the Colwood Golf Club and the outstanding result from their point of view was the victory of Art Christopher, Macaulay champion, over Frank Thomas, the Colwood ace. Christopher won all the points in his singles match. By a strange stroke of fate the only other man on the Macaulay team to win full points was G. Jones, who was the last man on the line-up. He defeated H. A. Hincks.

Colwood scored a heavy victory, winning the singles by 16 points to 3¼, while in the fourball matches Macaulay failed to win a point, the count being 18½ to all. The grand total was Colwood 34½, Macaulay, 3¼.

The scores, with the Macaulay players named first in each case, were as follows:

C.P.R. Take Second Victory and Obtain League Leadership

Cadets Lose to Railroaders
11-3 in Intermediate Ball;
Ross Bay Defeat Y.M.C.A.

While the Ross Bay nine were defeating the Y.M.C.A. 10-9 at Beacon Hill Park on Saturday the C.P.R. walloped the 112th Battalion 11-3 on their own ground and boosted themselves into first place in the league standing with two victories. The Y.M.C.A. and Ross Bay are tied for second place with a win and a loss each while the battalion boys have yet to hang up a win.

In but two innings were the Y.M.C.A. successful in sending runners across the plate, the second and seventh. In the second Patterson, the Ross Bay twirler, let down by a couple of errors was unable to hold the "Y" batters properly in check and five runs were scored. Again in the seventh when the score stood at 10-5 against them the "Y" made a decided rally and batted in four runs. Bacus, who tried to steal home with the winning run in this session, was put out at the plate for the third out, concluding the game. Ross Bay tallied in the second, third, fifth and sixth innings. Killick, the "Y" hurler, had a high ball which kept the Ross Bay willow-swingers batting hard at the air in the first two stanzas but his delivery was solved after that and his pitching.

Charlie Storch umpired. The teams were: Ross Bay—Cox, Howe, Stark, Patterson, Fox, McAllister, Burnett, Campbell and McDonald. Y.M.C.A.—B. Killick, Rowland, H. Killick, Newell, Barbour, Lemm, Bacus, Hunter and Turgoose.

At the High School, the C.P.R. behind the steady twirling of Webster, had little trouble in putting across their second win. Although Greenwood allowed but one runner to score during the first two stanzas, he could not hold the railroaders' slugging contingent in the third and six runs were tallied. Forbes, the relieving hurler, was touched for four runs during the remainder of the game. The 112th registered one

Australians Crack Middlesex Bowling In Vicious Manner

Only Four Wickets Down With
Score Standing at 357; Andrews Has 120, Not Out

London, May 30 (Canadian Press Cable)—The Australian team in their cricket match with the Middlesex County eleven at Lord's Saturday scored 357 for four wickets.

The game attracted a crowd of 26,000. The Australians took advantage of the fact that their skipper won the toss to play first on the best wicket that they have experienced so far in their present tour. They gave a spirited display of their power to get runs quickly, and Middlesex was kept busy running after the ball all day.

Mann, the Middlesex captain, worked all seven of his bowlers in a vain effort to keep down the scoring. First Bardsley, then Macartney, Collins and Andrews smote to all parts of the field.

WOODPULL'S FAILURE

A notable failure was Woodfull, who is known as a prolific scorer. He opened the batting with Bardsley, but left when the score was only fifteen. Macartney joined Bardsley and at once began an entertaining display, though it was cut short by a brilliant catch by Tanner just when the New South Wales player looked to be well set. Bardsley carried on with his more solid captain, Collins, until the score board registered 151, when he was clean bowled by Hearn.

Then Collins and Andrews collared the bowling. Andrews made many brilliant strokes all around the wicket. Collins departed when 246 runs had been scored. He was in for 195 minutes, and scored seven fours. Andrews, not out, scored sixteen boundaries. Scores were:

Australia, first innings—was of point deAngleterre over cream colored satin, with long sleeves and a train of lace with satin edge. Her tulle veil was held at the back with a small spray of orange blossoms and her bouquet was of orchids and lilies of the valley. Her brow was encircled by a necklace of rare pearls—the wedding gift of her father.

The groom and best man, his brother, James, of Baltimore, approached the altar down the other aisle. Secretary Mellon stood slightly to the side and back of his daughter as the Rt. Rev. James E. Freeman, Bishop of Washington, assisted by the Rev. Hugh Blackhead, D.D., of Baltimore, began the services. The groom responded in a firm, clear voice, and the bride replied in low but clear accents that were audible distinctly throughout the small chapel.

At the end, Secretary Mellon shook hands with his daughter and her husband. The bride, on the arm of her husband, then left the chapel, followed by Mr. Mellon, and the groom's mother and father. As the group departed down the aisle, the new Mrs. Bruce smiled happily at many friends in the brilliantly-lit but small audience in which the solemn tones of morning dress three into sharp display those of the diplomatic corps.

Two Southpaws Will Contest Finals For Oak Bay Golf Title

Art Beasley and Jack Matson to Play-off; Beasley Sets
Amateur Record

Two southpaws, Art Beasley and Jack Matson, will contest the finals for the club championship of the Victoria Golf Club. This is the first time in the history of this club, or probably any other in this section of the country, where two men who swing from the wrong side are playing in the finals.

Matson, who improved his game a lot while studying at Cambridge University, won his way into the finals by defeating Jack Hargrave 4 and 2. Beasley, who is the defending champion, entered the finals through the most spectacular bit of golf done by an amateur at Oak Bay in many a long week. Beasley eliminated A. S. Musgrave by 3 and 1, but in doing so he set a new amateur record for the course. His card showed a 70, one over par.

HOW HE DID IT
Beasley equalled par on the first hole with a 5 and had a bogey 4 at the second. He had par 4's on the third and fourth and gained his first birdie at the fifth, getting down in 3. He made the 34½-yard sixth in 2 for his second birdie, and followed on with par 5's at the seventh and eighth. He was one over par on the ninth with a 4.

The first five holes coming home he reeled off in par, having a 4 at the tenth, 4 at the eleventh, 5 at the twelfth, 3 at the thirteenth, and 3 at the fourteenth. He slipped a stroke on the fifteenth, where he took a 5, but he finished off the last three holes in par, taking a 4 at the sixteenth, a 5 at the seventeenth, and a 4 at the eighteenth.

Beasley went out in 33 and came home in 37. There is much speculation on the finals, which will be contested over thirty-six holes next Sunday. The results in the championship are as follows:

SEMI-FINALS

First Flight—A. H. Ford defeated Fred Nation 2 and 1; J. D. Virtue defeated R. C. Burdick 1 up.
Second Flight—W. H. MacInnes, J. Hutchinson and J. W. Ambury to play; H. A. Ross, Dr. Baillie, Harry Davis and H. P. Bagley to play.

THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH DELIVERED TO THE CITY CHURCHES YESTERDAY

THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Sermon Preached by Dr. W. G. Wilson at the First United Church

"The Church Which is His Body"

Ephesians 1, 21-22

I am not unmindful of the fact that I am called upon this morning to deal with a subject that has been the cause of much controversy among believing people. Most Christians agree to- gether in their belief in God, in Christ and His redeeming work, and in the Holy Spirit and His operations, but when it comes to the Church they differ, and their differences in the past have often caused them to forget the great things upon which they agree, with the result that there springs up an aloofness and coldness amongst people who ought to be living in cordial and happy relationship.

It is not my purpose to enter into any of the controversial phases of this great subject. I would rather, if possible, say something which would tend to develop more kindly feelings and more intimate fellowship amongst all people who truly love the Lord Jesus Christ. At the outset it might be well to say that the word "Church" is used in at least two quite different senses. It is first employed to designate a local company of be- lievers, such as, for example, when the Apostle speaks of "The Church of God which is at Antioch." But it is also used in the larger sense, embracing all those who love and serve Him who is the King and Head of that mystical body. It is employed by Paul in the words of our text, and it is in this sense we purpose using it. By "The Church," therefore, we mean a world-wide communion including men of every clime and color and tongue regardless of the ecclesiastical organization in which they may be found, who through faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, have been brought into the family of God. The particular form of government or mode of worship we cannot now consider except to say that no first-class historian would claim that the Church has an exclusive divine sanction. A close study of the New Testament will reveal the fact that local considerations often determined the form of church government, and that there was no stereotyped order or government set forth or enjoined upon the Christians of the apostolic age. To assert any exclusive prerogative in this matter is simply to ignore the story given us in the New Testament.

Having said this much by way of introduction I should like to add something as to the function of the Church in the world.

1. It is the privilege and duty of the Church to keep alive a sense of God and bear constant witness to the reality of the unseen world. It does this in many ways. Its characteristic style of architecture alone bears mute testimony not only to the faith of the men who erected the building but points passerby to the higher world above. Its strain of devout worshipers on the Lord's Day is a weekly reminder to the careless that man does not live by bread alone. To those who enter the sanctuary the solemnity of the service, the spiritual meditations, the mingling of devout worshippers is a potent stimulus to the nobler impulses and aspirations of life. Here the vision which too close contact with a material world has clouded becomes cleared again; men are reminded that it is the pure in heart that see God. Here, too, the standards which too often men accept through the days of the week are seen to be defective and they are brought back to the consideration of principles which Jesus left for the guidance of human conduct. Here, again, we are all reminded that the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life through our Lord Jesus Christ. And so long as human nature remains what it is just so long will men require the help which the Church was intended to offer.

2. But the Church is also a training school for Christ. Men and women, a home for growing boys and girls, which offers special opportunity for spiritual development and uplifting service. It is a great mistake to think of it as either a social club or a spiritual sanitarium. If men are brought into the kingdom of God they must demonstrate their citizenship by the cheerful and willing acceptance of responsibility, and address themselves to the spread of the gospel and the redemption of human society. Nothing less than this would Jesus accept from disciples and we should not adopt standards which He did not authorize. It follows, therefore, that every corner of the earth into which the light of the gospel has not shone, as well as every social wrong amongst men, should constitute a challenge to the Church whose business it is to see that the teaching of Jesus is known everywhere and applied to every phase of human activity.

3. The loss through divisions—That the Church has suffered greatly and the world lost enormously through needless divisions goes without saying. Every serious-minded Christian must regret our loss. Influence both at home and abroad through a divided witness and all that it implies. But without discussing that phase of the question at the present, there are some considerations of a practical nature which I wish to leave with you. (a) We should try to free our minds from prejudice against those whose ways of stating their belief, or modes of worship, or methods of working, differ from our own. It is not ours to argue which is nearer the New Testament custom, but wherever we see the spirit of Christ manifesting itself, we should recognize a fellow churchman and a brother in Christ. (b) I think, too, we should study sympathetically the ways of other communions and be prepared to borrow freely from them whatever has proven of spiritual helpfulness, whether in worship or in work. God has not given a monopoly to any branch of His Church. We are the spiritual heirs of all devout people who have lived and worked and worshipped before us, and we should unhesitatingly appropriate our inheritance. We make no apology for adopting this principle in the compilation of our hymn books. But we have lost much by our backwardness in other matters. If we had been more progressive we would have learned to esteem more highly those of other communions, and would have more completely entered into the divine life of the whole Church. (c) We should also war against the temptation to make a special appeal to any one social class. The Church of Christ was intended to become the most unifying force in human society, and if there be any special group in the community untouched by the Church's influence, it must be considered as a witness against her fidelity and a challenge to a more aggressive proclamation and application of the religion taught by Him who saw in every man and woman the potentialities of sainthood.

(d) We should develop new faith in the adequacy of the Church's mission. Her task is mighty but her equipment is magnificent. She is sent to conquer the world, but He who sent her promised to be with her and clothe her with sufficient power. Did we but that promise to the test we would soon see the Kingdom of God coming down from heaven among men. It is not that the Church has not available resources. It is rather that she has not drawn upon them as she should have done.

4. The need of the hour is that men would rally to the Church in her divine mission. The Church is languishing because of men who are sympathetic but indifferent. It has its faults, but those who remain out of sympathy are served by some of the noblest spirits in history, is consecrated to the realization of the highest ideals and should have the sympathy and support of every man and woman who longs for a better state of affairs. It is the only organization above the horizon which offers moral and spiritual leadership to the world and its ministry. It needs every man, but no more than every man needs it.

AN EMPIRE DAY ADDRESS

Delivered by Dr. W. G. Wilson at First United Church, Sunday, May 22

Psalm xxxiii 12—"Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord; and the people whom He hath chosen for His own inheritance."

We are standing on the threshold of a national holiday whose interest is Empire wide. To many of the older ones it will doubtless call up memories, tender and enduring, of that great and good woman who for so long reigned over the British Empire. To all of us it should bring thoughts of the past, the present and the future of this great confederacy of states brought together in a remarkable way, and held together by bonds unseen, but indissoluble. It will be pitiful if such seasons come and go without the more serious-minded of our citizens meditate upon the position which Canada and Canadians will occupy in the Great Commonwealth. We should ask ourselves what we are worthy of our inheritance from former generations, and worthy of our present opportunities. The material wealth of our Dominion is unmatched by that of other lands. The very youth of our country should deliver us from the bondage of tradition and conservatism which stifles initiative and hampers enterprise. If Canada does not find and fill an honored place in the Empire and in the eyes of all the world, it will not be because the opportunity was not given her. But there is much for her citizens to do. Problems await solution more delicate and difficult than ever confronted our predecessors, conditions must be met which will tax the ingenuity and the patience of the wisest and best. A strain will be thrown upon the youth soon to follow, such as was never thrown upon the shoulders of a previous generation. As true patriots we must think upon these things and see to it that we do not pass our days in national indifference, and disloyal uselessness. For the currents of human affairs never tend towards peace and prosperity unless strong men and women will and work hard to have it so.

Of the many matters which should challenge our immediate attention, I mention but a few, and these only in the most fragmentary fashion. We should set ourselves towards the strengthening of the evident weaknesses of a demonstrative form of government.

We make our boast that the power has been wrested from the sovereign and vested in the people, but power is a mighty trust which should only be in the possession of those who know how and desire to use it helpfully, and no observant person will claim that democracy has yet justified itself in turn. We have not a single class, a moral people, an unselfish people, who are willing to put the interests of all the people ahead of the interests of an individual or a class. We have not shown ourselves equal to such an undertaking. It presupposes great men in places of public responsibility, but this in turn requires a great electorate to discover and elect such men. There are three things which we should require of our public men. We should demand ability. There are many who feel that conditions today do not always attract our most capable men, and that too often the man who needs our best must do with a second or third choice. The times call loudly for our prominent and most devoted patriots, and we should see to it that they are commanded of public service. We should demand character, of course we cannot always know, but occasions have been too numerous when men sought our suffrage who were known to be morally unfit for such positions. We should accept no substitute for a good character. The temptations which public office are too many and too great to be resisted by men of average ability, and if men are not irreproachable before they enter, the risks to both the man and the state are too great, and we should demand a high sense of duty to the public. Demonstrations are too numerous of men who secure office only to abuse their privileged position, who forget every interest but their own. The issues of the day are no grave, so colossal, so urgent, that true patriots should forget party and creed and unite to select only those of proven ability, blameless character, and with such devotion to the affairs of the state that self-interest will decline to be the dominant factor. And such men should in turn be able to count upon our unswerving support. Our method of elections is simply atrocious and increasingly threatens the whole future of our country. The very lowest motives often determine the issue. It is entirely our fault that most men are difficult to induce to stand for office. It is our fault that the unscrupulous voters so often become the deciding factor in elections. We are criminally passive in these matters; we become a party because we do not actively oppose to apathy, a citizen who did not cast his vote was not called a criminal. If we disfranchise every voter who, without a reason that could be accepted by a judge, did not vote, it would do much to eliminate one form of viciousness which enters into our national life. And if we required an intelligence test for all men and women before they were accredited citizenship and given the franchise, it might lead to a study of our public and national affairs, which has not proven attractive to the vast multitude of our people. I think, too, that as patriots we should regard the reputation of our public men as a second trust. Our needless criticism and the unending vilification of the servants of the State has almost become a pastime with many people, and is having such an effect that often the stouthearted and the noblest spirits decline to accept responsibility longer, leaving the ranks to be filled up by others less suitable and valuable. My plea, therefore, is that we should demand the highest type of representative, we should guarantee him the support and protection and sympathy which would be an expression of our devotion and gratitude.

2. We should do our part to avert the increasing disrespect for the sanctity of the law. The inviolability of the law is the foundation of justice. We have always been the proud boast of the Britisher. The processes of a thousand years have tended to make the law a sacred thing, and we should be humble and hearty thanks. But disintegrating forces are at work, and we have fallen on times when many flout the law, they only tell us that it is pitiful if such seasons come and go without the more serious-minded of our citizens meditate upon the position which Canada and Canadians will occupy in the Great Commonwealth. We should ask ourselves what we are worthy of our inheritance from former generations, and worthy of our present opportunities. The material wealth of our Dominion is unmatched by that of other lands. Influence both at home and abroad through a divided witness and all that it implies. But without discussing that phase of the question at the present, there are some considerations of a practical nature which I wish to leave with you. (a) We should try to free our minds from prejudice against those whose ways of stating their belief, or modes of worship, or methods of working, differ from our own. It is not ours to argue which is nearer the New Testament custom, but wherever we see the spirit of Christ manifesting itself, we should recognize a fellow churchman and a brother in Christ. (b) I think, too, we should study sympathetically the ways of other communions and be prepared to borrow freely from them whatever has proven of spiritual helpfulness, whether in worship or in work. God has not given a monopoly to any branch of His Church. We are the spiritual heirs of all devout people who have lived and worked and worshipped before us, and we should unhesitatingly appropriate our inheritance. We make no apology for adopting this principle in the compilation of our hymn books. But we have lost much by our backwardness in other matters. If we had been more progressive we would have learned to esteem more highly those of other communions, and would have more completely entered into the divine life of the whole Church. (c) We should also war against the temptation to make a special appeal to any one social class. The Church positions. We should accept no substitute for a good character. The temptations which public office are too many and too great to be resisted by men of average ability, and if men are not irreproachable before they enter, the risks to both the man and the state are too great, and we should demand a high sense of duty to the public. Demonstrations are too numerous of men who secure office only to abuse their privileged position, who forget every interest but their own. The issues of the day are no grave, so colossal, so urgent, that true patriots should forget party and creed and unite to select only those of proven ability, blameless character, and with such devotion to the affairs of the state that self-interest will decline to be the dominant factor. And such men should in turn be able to count upon our unswerving support. Our method of elections is simply atrocious and increasingly threatens the whole future of our country. The very lowest motives often determine the issue. It is entirely our fault that most men are difficult to induce to stand for office. It is our fault that the unscrupulous voters so often become the deciding factor in elections. We are criminally passive in these matters; we become a party because we do not actively oppose to apathy, a citizen who did not cast his vote was not called a criminal. If we disfranchise every voter who, without a reason that could be accepted by a judge, did not vote, it would do much to eliminate one form of viciousness which enters into our national life. And if we required an intelligence test for all men and women before they were accredited citizenship and given the franchise, it might lead to a study of our public and national affairs, which has not proven attractive to the vast multitude of our people. I think, too, that as patriots we should regard the reputation of our public men as a second trust. Our needless criticism and the unending vilification of the servants of the State has almost become a pastime with many people, and is having such an effect that often the stouthearted and the noblest spirits decline to accept responsibility longer, leaving the ranks to be filled up by others less suitable and valuable. My plea, therefore, is that we should demand the highest type of representative, we should guarantee him the support and protection and sympathy which would be an expression of our devotion and gratitude.

12. The loss through divisions—That the Church has suffered greatly and the world lost enormously through needless divisions goes without saying. Every serious-minded Christian must regret our loss. THE YELLOW STUB

"Great, Jim. You're going to be my angel, huh? The heavy sugar daddy behind the scenes. You old sport, you. Let me kiss you again." When he had gone she rang for the nurse.
"Put out the light, nurse, old dear. And tell me, how much longer do I have to stay in this damn bed?"
When it was dark she lay with her face to the wall, and cried.
Jimmy did call Mary Lowell's house, but she was not there. Her mother told him that a young man named Barry Colvin had been there and had taken her off with him to the police station.
Outside the hospital he hailed the first automobile that came along, and something about its manner led him to believe that it was the man behind the wheel to think it was a matter of life and death to get him to headquarters.
He had thought Mary and he would be alone when he saw her, and had mentally rehearsed the scene between them. But when he walked in O'Day's office he found her with Barry Colvin on one side of her and the old war horse O'Day on the other. He saw Barry jump to greet him, and O'Day turn his head. But he ignored Barry's rush and stood helplessly, without speech, his eyes on Mary, who sat still and pale and just looked.
The torrent of words he wanted to utter was dammed at his teeth. He was oblivious of the two men.
Slowly he raised his hands and let them fall.
And then, as in a dream, he saw Mary moving toward him, shining wetness in her eyes. She paused a few feet from him, and he thrilled as she said, without taking her eyes from him, "I couldn't do without you, Jim."
He was able to utter in a choked voice, "Mary."
And then she walked straight into his arms for his kiss, and they were suddenly alone in a world of their own, on some high, far-flung plain lit by the silent stars.
"You heard?" he asked, still clinging to her.
She nodded. "They told me all, Jim."
He turned to look about him, coming back to earth once more. Barry was gazing out of the window. His hands were clasped behind his back, and he was rocking back and forth on heels and toes.
As for O'Day, that worthy still sat at his desk with his back politely turned, but Jimmy was amazed to find him shattering all the "rules and regulations" by smoking a fat black cigar.
"O'Day," he cried sharply, keeping a straight face only with the utmost difficulty, "do you want to be reduced? Lord, man, you're smoking!"
O'Day, his expression suggesting that he was as much surprised as Jimmy to find himself smoking.

WOMEN MAKE TRIP TO THE FAR NORTH

Winnipeg, May 31.—On an adventurous trip which will take them to the Arctic circle, traveling to the North country from Edmonton by rail and canoe, two English women now are en route west.

They are Miss Clara C. Rogers of Truro, Cornwall, England, and Miss Gwendoline Dorian Smith of the Isle of Wight.

The purpose of the trip, said Miss Rogers, who is a writer of note, "is to see the vast country" and collect flora, which will be presented to the Kew Gardens Museum in London.

Both have traveled extensively in foreign countries and have experienced many hardships, including war service as nurses with the British army. From Edmonton they will proceed by rail to the end of steel, then to Aklayik on the Mackenzie River, and to Fort McPherson, where Indian guides will take them by canoe up the Peel River. They will then cross the Height of Land and then go down the River to the Porcupine River, and drift down through to the Yukon River and then to Anchorage or Seward, Alaska. They expect to be gone two months on their trip after which they will go to Vancouver. They will return to England in September.

Garden Party at Sefton College.—A garden party and sale of work will be held in the grounds of Sefton College, corner of St. Charles and Rockland Avenue, by the ladies of the Guild of St. Barnabas, assisted by the auxiliaries, on Saturday June 19, to be opened at 3 o'clock by the Rev. Keeling of Sidney, B.C. In addition to the usual stalls for the sale of useful and fancy articles, there will be afternoon teas served, and dances will be given by the pupils of Mrs. Dorothy Wilson, and musical selections by a string orchestra. It will also be possible for those desiring to play tennis on the courts, and in another part of the grounds, a golf will be arranged for. This event is under the convener'ship of Mrs. P. Edmund Corby, assisted by an energetic committee of ladies.

STUDENTS LEARN AGRICULTURE AT FIRST HAND NOW

Victoria High School Classes Go to Saanich Farms For Instruction

Impressed With Magnificent Prize Animals at Matson Farm

Over one hundred and fifty agricultural students of the Victoria High School left on Saturday morning at 8.30 o'clock for their annual trip to Saanich, where they visited the Experimental Farm and that of J. S. H. Matson.

They were first shown the prize Jersey herds belonging to the Matson farm. They were then conveyed to the Experimental Farm where demonstrations in horticulture were given. They were shown the apiculture and listened to talks on the raising of bees, and the methods employed in handling and shipping them.

MAGNIFICENT ANIMALS
Upon their arrival at the Matson farm the students were given permission to look over the premises. They took special interest in the two prize bulls, magnificent animals which have won many awards. The herds of heifers were also greatly admired. The milk cows were on show in the stables.

Professor Hare of the University of British Columbia gave a short talk on cattle in general, especially those of the dairy type. He said that Mr. Matson's herd was one of the finest in the world, Brompton Park Kate being the champion of the world for butter-fat production. She produces 1,642 pounds of butter-fat in one year, although only nine years old and approximately 800 pounds in weight.

DAIRY FARMING
This butter-fat averages about six per cent. The ordinary cow produces only about 200 pounds of butter-fat.

Professor Hare pointed out to the students the great opportunities for dairy farming in Vancouver Island. He stated that there were fifty different types of cows, and at least a thousand different crops which can be planted on the farm. The cow is an indirect method of sealing the crop. Each breed is suited for different purposes. The four main types are the Holstein, the Ayrshire, the Jersey and the Guernsey.

Careful selection and breeding has increased the milk supply to such an extent that one cow can now feed twelve calves instead of one as formerly. The Jersey cow, said Professor Hare, was considered the prettiest breed. He described the various characteristics. Three Jersey cows were brought out and judged, the pupils acting as judges.

EXPERIMENTAL FARM

At the Experimental Farm, after being shown the proper planting of seeds in the hothouse, the students proceeded to the apiaries, where the beekeeper explained in minute detail how to conduct a successful apiary. The students prepared their lunch on tables in the shade of the trees and sat down to a bounteous repast of strawberries and cream supplied by the Experimental Farm. The large party was transported to and from the farms in motors supplied by friends for the occasion. The weather was delightful, and all concerned enjoyed the outing to the utmost.

H. O. English, agriculture instructor at the High School, was in charge.

JACK JOHNSON BEATEN

El Paso, Texas, May 31.—Bob Lawson of New York, negro light heavyweight champion, scored a technical knockout against Jack Johnson, former world heavyweight champion, at the end of the seventh round in the Juarez Coliseum yesterday afternoon.

Johnson apparently had a big edge in weight over the New York boy and held him off the first few rounds. Lawson gradually began to land his punches, however, and just as the bell rang at the end of the seventh round, landed a body punch which floored the big negro. Johnson was unable to rise at the beginning of the eighth and was finally lifted to his chair.

ACCIDENTS CAUSED LONG DEATHLIST

Twenty-one Persons in Eastern U.S. Lost Lives at Week-end

Seven Burned to Death in Hotel in Brooklyn; Deaths in Autos

New York, May 31 (Canadian Press).—In automobile accidents, fires, explosions and drownings, death took a heavy toll in the eastern part of the United States over the week-end. In all, twenty-one lives were snuffed out accidentally. Then persons perished in flames, seven were killed as results of auto smashups, one person was drowned and three were killed in an explosion.

In Brooklyn, a fire which destroyed the old Taft Hotel early this morning claimed seven lives.

In Rochester, N.Y., an unidentified man and woman were drowned last night when their sedan plunged over an eighty-foot embankment into the Genesee River and sank in fifteen feet of water.

Reports from Connecticut said the state had lost six citizens in accidents, five being killed in auto wrecks, while one was drowned.

When fire destroyed the home of Dr. A. Embury, eminent Egyptologist of the Johns Hopkins University at Baltimore, Md., early to-day, Dr.

FUSION OF PARTIES IS REPORTED DISCUSSED

W. Pringle Says Lloyd George's Followers Approached British Laborites

London, May 31.—In a speech at Dunstable, William Pringle, a prominent Liberal and former member of Parliament, referred to the difference between the Earl of Oxford and Asquith and David Lloyd George growing out of the attitude of Mr. Lloyd George during the recent general strike throughout Great Britain.

Mr. Pringle severely criticized Lloyd George for his part in the affair and insinuated that during the last fortnight the adherents of Lloyd George in the Liberal Party had made overtures to the Labor Party, which had been rejected.

Political gossip of recent days indicated there was considerable tension between the Earl of Oxford, who is leader of the Liberal Party, and Mr. Lloyd George, the party's parliamentary chairman in the House of Commons, and there were even rumors of a possible split in the ranks of the Liberal Party as a consequence.

M.P.'S START LAST MONTH OF SESSION

Belief Growing Prorogation in Ottawa Will Come by July 1

Ottawa, May 31.—To-day the House of Commons began what will probably be the last month of the present session of Parliament. While there is plenty for the members to do, progress during the last week was satisfactory and the belief is growing Parliament will be prorogued by July 1.

The customs inquiry committee, which is now delving into the affairs of the Dominion Distillery Company and subsidiary companies, is expected to continue examination of witnesses from these organizations when it resumes to-morrow.

A number of other firms are under investigation, but their examination will not, it is understood, occupy much of the time of the committee. It is even suggested the committee will conclude its examination of witnesses in a week or ten days and will be prepared to report to the House in a fortnight or at most in three weeks.

To-day is the last private members' day of the present session.

The Government has given notice of the introduction of amendments to the Criminal Code, to the Opium and Narcotic Drug Act, and to the Yukon Quartz Mining Act.

Ottawa, May 31.—Dr. A. G. Doughty, Dominion archivist, has been appointed chairman of the public records commission, according to an announcement made in The Canada Gazette.

CARBON is your motor's worst enemy. Carbon slows you on hills; robs your car of its natural power; causes rapid deterioration; brings you to the repair shop too often; unnecessarily increases the cost of motoring.

Now you can escape carbon trouble and have better all-round motoring satisfaction by using Marvelube—the new process motor oil that successfully combats carbon.

Marvelube is made from Peruvian Crude Oil, controlled and used by Imperial Oil Limited.

It is refined by the new Marvelube Process by which the original low carbon content of this world-famous crude oil is further reduced to the merest trace. This process has been developed by, and is the sole property of, Imperial Oil Limited.

With the right grade of Marvelube in your crank-case you will enjoy a revelation of new power and smoothness in the performance of your car. Use this marvelous lubricant exclusively over a period of time, and you will eliminate 99% of the annoyance and expense now caused by carbon deposits.

Marvelube is made in six grades—including Marvelube "F"—a special grade for Ford cars. One of these grades is right for your make and model of motor car or truck. It is sold at Imperial Oil Stations and good dealers everywhere. The standard retail price of Marvelube from bulk is 40c. per quart.
